Genuine, life-giving, heart-stirring, soul-reviving Mental Energy is a very rare production in this degenerate, matter-of-fact, money-making age; the nobler elements of man's nature, the loftier attributes of his mind are sadly neglected, and all his energies are directed toward one channel and for the accomplishment of one grand idol object. We trust that such things will not always be; the Iron and the Golden Ages have passed away, and we are probably now in the midst of the Brazen Age. After this shall have rolled away, and the wild notions which are now passing in the human heart, and heating the head of man to an unnatural and dangerous extent, have all evaporated,—we may again look earnestly for a return of the Golden Age, or it may be, one more brilliant, desirable and perfect even than that. But be that as it may, let us hope that the day is not far distant when the mind of man shall be the true criterion of his worth,—the only standard by which he shall be judged on earth. The meekest and most insignificant of God's creation, whose intellectual faculties are but little more than instinct, may heap up piles of the world's treasures, and are they to elevate him to that lofty height of a dizzy eminence,—whether the mighty child of genius is to look up for the true model of a perfect man, if a certain class in the community could only regulate the great balance wheel of creative power and guiding wisdom. The mass of men would neglect the cultivation of the mind, and all the more delicate elements of the heart, for the purpose of accumulating wealth and heaping up gold, it may dazzle the eyes of some, and gratify the vanity of others, but after all, it is a poor foundation in life, and a miserable cloak beneath which a thousand moral deformities are secretly hid.

The mind cannot die. It has not a tangible, a real existence. We cannot see it, we cannot feel it, yet it lives. It dictates our career in life, and from it emanates all our thoughts and works; it enables us to solve vast problems, and to produce splendid deductions. It lights the poet's eye and illumines the scholar's brow. By it a Bacon and a Locke gave us their powerful logical reasonings; by it philosophers have astonished the world with their mighty revelations; by it jurists have enlightened mankind with the wisdom and succinct beauty of jurisprudence; by it theologians have unraveled the profound mysteries of religion, and solved, for us, to a certain extent, the problem of eternal life; by it physicians have opened the dark caverns of sickness and disease, and discovered partial remedies; by it the scientific mechanician has revealed wonderful improvements in the useful arts; by it poets have breathed their boldest strains, and enraptured the human family, by the easy flow of their polished and musical verse. In short, by the mind we live. The mind is the all of life, and without it we should be in worse than the darkness. Still, it does not command that profound respect, and receive that marked attention which it merits. I am sorry to say, with the great mass of men, secondary consideration. This is a humiliating reflection! Cast your eye abroad in the world, and where you behold one devotee at the shrine of material divinity, you behold thousands around the incensed God of Mammon.—We have the undying charm that clings around the heart, until death unclasp the lips, grasp, and the soul passes to its eternal abode.

We may attempt to evade the question, but it is too lamentably true. It is strange, passing strange, what influence wealth has on the world; it is the great and all-powerful to which man worships. His earliest devotions are paid at its shrine, with a loving fondness; and it is the bright, particular star that guides him through all the labyrinthine of this life. It gives him character and a name among his fellows, and it is his passport to society in preference to all others. No matter what may be a person's condition or circumstances, how humble his sphere, among the great and wealthy, by some fortuitous occurrence, he is suddenly showered upon him, and he is elevated, as if by magic, to that enviable position, to which all eyes are attracted, as earnestly as if it was the Mecca of all human hope and happiness. A man may be poor in the possession of this world's goods, and although worthy and deserving,—still, the tyrannizing rules of custom, and the arbitrary decree of public opinion, assign him his place, and there he must always remain, merely because he is unable to luxuriate on the downy bed of wealth. Some of those whose vast treasures assign them an honored place in the bosom of the Aristocratic brotherhood, give him, perhaps, a passing notice, and think that he is well enough in his place, but that Heaven never ordained that they should associate with an humble mechanic; there runs not in his veins a drop of aristocratic blood, and the purity of their lofty pedigree must not be contaminated by association with a commoner on life's pilgrimage. But let fortune smile on that man, and he be made the possessor of wealth, and he is at once elevated to a dizzy and commanding eminence, and immediately receives the obsequious smile of those who formerly treated him almost with contempt,—certainly with indifference.

Money is valuable only, so far as it procures us the comforts and purchasable blessings of life; and farther than that, it is of no avail. It cannot obtain us honors beyond the finite compact—it cannot wreath our brows with those substantial crowns which will live and glitter hereafter—it cannot procure us the inestimable blessings of a quiet conscience—it cannot earn us a mental immortality, and it cannot secure us a fragrant name, when the ambrosial breath of popular applause shall have died away on the vacant air. Above all, it cannot secure us from the inevitable doom of our race, or purchase unfading mansions at last, in the celestial world, where the spirit may be at rest, when the confusing din of time is over.

The death of the venerable James Kent, which we have already noticed, creates a wide void in the legal profession which cannot be soon or easily filled. He lived to the great and remarkable age of four-score years, and during that long period there was not a spot or a blemish on his character, and it will pass down to posterity as the beautiful model of a perfect man.—He ranked high at the Bar, early in life, and afterwards, for very many years, discharged the high and important duties of Chancellor of the State of New York. He also published his "Commentaries," which are as familiar to every lawyer and in every Court of Justice, as the Dictionary is to every school-boy.

When such a man dies, there is a mourning in society of no ordinary character, for it is not the loss of a common man that we deplore; but it is as if a bright light, which had stood for years in our midst, had gone out, and made the surrounding darkness more visible. Chancellor Kent has not departed, in the early morning, or the very prime of life,—but he has lived to a great and an honorable age, full of honors and full of years; his lamp has gone gradually out, and his sun of existence has passed quietly from the heavens. With no disease upon him, his faculties unimpaired, he has passed to the long sleep of death as gently as an infant's repose.

Pure and exemplary was his life, and beautiful has been his death; society feels the loss of such a man, and the respect with which he is held, manifests itself in the manner in which his death is deplored.

The following we cut from the Boston Evening Traveller of Wednesday:

ACCIDENT TO THE STEAMER GOVERNOR.—We learn from the baggage master of the steamer Massachusetts, which left New York last evening, on the Stonington route, that when off Ricker's Island, about 5 P. M., they passed the steamer Governor, of the Fall River route, going into New York. The Governor left Fall River on Monday night, and was due at New York yesterday morning. Her side was partially stove in, and she had undoubtedly met with some accident.

CINCINNATI, DEC. 14.—We have snow here to the depth of eighteen inches. The freshest in the Ohio still continues, and the lower part of the river is entirely submerged. We hear generally of great destruction of property, but the details have not reached us. The water is every where around us very high, and the tributaries of the Ohio are swelled to an unusual degree.

Thirtieth Congress—First Session.

SENATE.—Tuesday.—Bills were introduced to graduate and reduce the price of the public lands and to establish a Branch Mint in the city of New York.

Mr. Dickinson of New York, offered a series of resolutions providing for the adjustment of questions of domestic policy, in new Territories, by Legislature chosen by the people thereof.

The Senate then proceeded to fill up the Committee.

The Senate adjourned.

HOUSE.—Tuesday.—The House proceeded to ballot for Chaplain, and on the third ballot, Rev. R. R. Gurley of the Presbyterian persuasion was elected.

Mr. Vinton, of Ohio, then submitted a resolution instituting two Committees on Commerce, domestic and foreign.

Col. Monroe, of New York, presented a petition asking for his seat as a representative, illegally held, as he contends, by Mr. Jackson who represents the 6th district, which comprises a part of the city of New York.

Communications were received from the treasury department on commerce, navigation, on the issue of treasury notes, &c.

The bill for the relief of Paul Jones's heirs was referred to the committee on claims.

House adjourned.

We have never heard of a more severely afflictive occurrence, than the recent death of J. McHenry Boyd, Esq., in Philadelphia, which was caused by the accidental discharge of a pistol, while he was preparing to retire; the ball struck some vital part, and he expired in two or three days.—He had been married that morning to a lovely and accomplished lady in the vicinity of Baltimore, and had started north on his bridal tour. But a few short hours before the terrible accident, in company with his chosen "bride of an hour," he had bade his friends in his native city adieu, and with all the bright hopes of the future that health, wealth, and happy love could call up in the imagination of youth before him, little dreaming that the death-stroke was already descending, to nip the bud of his hopes, ere the close of the bright day of his anticipation. Of the distress of the widowed bride, words can convey no adequate idea; hers is one of the inscrutable visitations of Providence, which can only be viewed with mingled emotions of wonder and submission to Him "whose ways are past finding out."

COURT OF COMMON PLEAS.—Nichols Hassard vs Henry B. Hodges, reported yesterday, the Jury returned a verdict of one hundred dollars and costs for the Plaintiff.

The case of Peter Cook vs Thomas Estes, for Slander, which was commenced on Tuesday, and passed over, was resumed yesterday morning. There was any quantity of swearing down the characters of the Plaintiff's witnesses, in this case; testimony in rebuttal, was introduced, to show that the witnesses had heard nothing against their character.

Pearce & Sheffield for the Plaintiff. H. Y. Cranston & Son, of this town, and Louis Lapham, of Fall River, for the Defendant.

ALBANY, DEC. 14.—The freshest still continues, and the water is so high that it has completely inundated all the docks and piers.

FROM MEXICO.—A late number of the Matamoros Flag reports that the Mexican General Filisola was at San Luis Potosi with an army of 5000 men, ready to march upon Saltillo as soon as he should learn of the return home of Gen Taylor.

Gen. Wool, at the last advices, was at the Walnut Springs.

The Whig meeting in New York to respond to the speech of Henry Clay, is to be held at the Tabernacle on the evening of the 20th inst. The Tribune says that no nomination of President of the United States will be proposed or suggested by those to whom have been confided the duty of preparing the address and the resolutions.

Abby Kelly, alias Mrs. Polson, has quit the abolition platform, for a time, in consequence of small domestic matters requiring her attention.

The landing of the pilgrims at Plymouth, is to be celebrated by the New England Society of Cincinnati on the 22d inst.

General Taylor was detained at New Orleans until Sunday morning, when he left in the steamer Missouri, en route to his plantation at Baton Rouge. He would pass a few days in quiet with his family, and then visit his country seat in Mississippi, so that if needed in Mexico he can return immediately.

NOT DEAD.—Lieut. Mayne Reid, known by the sobriquet of the "Pony Scholar," who was reported killed at Mexico, writes to the Spirit of the Times that he was severely wounded in the battle of Chapultepec, but is now alive and considered out of danger.

COME BACK.—We have rarely witnessed a greater excitement on "Change," not even upon the arrival of a British steamer, than was apparent to-day, at one o'clock, at the return of "General Miller," whose name has been coupled with recent extensive forgeries. He seemed in good health and excellent spirits.—Boston Journal

There are 18,000 words in the President's message, and it was published in Cincinnati 42 hours after its delivery in Washington.

SOUTH CAROLINA.—The proposition to give the election of Presidential Electors to the people, has been lost in the Senate of South Carolina.

The Rev. Mr. Waterston's lecture at Armory Hall last evening, on the Life and Character of Washington Allston, was exceedingly interesting, and was listened to by a large and highly respectable audience.

To enable mankind to die of Old Age without Disease.—The public may not be aware that the Rev. B. Hibbard's Vegetable Pills are the very best Family Medicine extant; perfectly reliable in every emergency. No one can foresee the moment when they or their children may be attacked. Disease comes like a thief in the night, and in times of peril, anxiety and danger, it is a relief to the mind to have at hand a remedy so certain, prompt, and efficient in warding off as well as curing disease. Ship Fever, Typhus Fever, Congestive and Bilious Diseases are rife throughout the land. The travellers, emigrants, soldiers, and families, who neglect not to provide yourself with so potent a possessor of the blood, so safe, mild, and universal a remedy as these sovereign Vegetable Pills. Remember the name of Rev. B. Hibbard is on the label of each box. All others are spurious. T. R. Hibbard, M. D., 96 John-st., New York, proprietor. See advertisement in another column.

[Extract of a letter from Dr. Williams of Vt.]
Gentleman—I will thank you to send me two dozen more of your Sarsaparilla and Tonic. I have used it with great success in four cases of dyspepsia, curing each of them in an almost incredible short time; likewise one case of scurvy, humor and one of jaundice. I consider it a valuable compound, and must say I have used it with the happiest effects. Should like to have it as soon as convenient. One of the cases of dyspepsia was a gentleman who had suffered a long time, and had been to the Springs for two seasons.

A. Boyden, Esq., of Cambridge, cured of the dyspepsia of a year standing, after trying a hundred remedies without the least effect.

Sore throats, cough, consumption, pains in various parts of the body, and other unpleasant symptoms, are the usual effect of catching cold. Wright's Indian Vegetable Pills are a delightful medicine for carrying off a cold, because they purge from the body all morbid and corrupt humors in so easy and natural a manner, that the body is relieved of all suffering as if by magic. From three to six of said Indian Vegetable Pills, taken every night on going to bed, will, in a short time, make a perfect cure of the most obstinate cold—at the same time the blood and other fluids will be thoroughly purified, and the constitution so completely invigorated, that the body will be restored to sounder health than before.

Beware of SOLEB COUNTY COUNTERFEITS.—Remember that the original and only genuine Indian Vegetable Pills have the written signature of William Wright on the top label of each box. The genuine are for sale by G. C. HAZARD, No. 89 Thames-st., Sole Agent for Newport; and by Nathan Dennis, Portsmouth; Seabury & Albany, Tiverton Bridge; Arnold Smith, Tiverton; Four Corners; H. F. Brown, Little Compton; W. A. Brown, Adamsville. Wholesale at the New England Office, 398, Tremont-st., Boston.

Sand's Sarsaparilla.—The following interesting case is presented, and the reader invited to its careful perusal. Comment on such evidence is unnecessary.

East Poultney, Vt., Aug. 10, 1846.
Messrs. Sands: In the spring of '41 I had the typhus fever, with which I suffered the most intense pain, and when I recovered from that, I was attacked with a spinal complaint and inflammation of the throat. This continued till June, '43, when my throat and lungs ulcerated, attended with a severe cough, and my face was covered with scrofulous sores. I cannot describe what I suffered for five years, three of which I was confined to my bed. During this time I received no benefit from the prescriptions of the various physicians, and had nearly given up all hopes of ever being any better. At this time I was induced to try your Sarsaparilla, from the many remarkable cures it had performed, and strange as it may appear, the first bottle effected a sensible change! By continuing its use my health has so much improved that I can now not only sit up, but walk; and I fully believe, with the blessing of Providence, that it will effect a perfect cure. Yours, very truly,

ADELINE STANLEY.

The great and only Successful Remedy for the cure of Consumption,

Dr. E. W. Vandersmith's INDIAN COUGH BALM and LUNG BALM.

White Plains, April 20, 1847.

This is to certify that I have been afflicted for five years with a cough, pain in the chest, night sweats, difficulty in breathing, etc., and I also expectorated a large quantity of frothy matter and blood, from which I was reduced to a perfect skeleton; my throat was very much ulcerated. I had lunar electricity applied to my throat twice a week, but received no benefit; I have used one hundred different kinds of Patent Medicines, recommended by my friends, but all to no purpose. A friend of mine, Mr. Willett, whose lungs had been affected for two years past, was cured by Dr. Vandersmith's Medicine. He insisted upon my trying Dr. V. and I did so. After I had used his medicine 15 days, I expectorated large quantities of yellow fetid matter, my chest expanded, and my difficulty in breathing subsided. I persevered with his medicine, and the result has been, I am perfectly cured of all my sickness. I recommend every consumptive to try Dr. V.'s medicine, I am confident it will cure you. Your sincere friend, EDWARD C. THOMPSON.

Inflammation of the Lungs.

New York, June 10, 1847.

Dr. Vandersmith:—I have been subject to a cough, pain in the chest, difficulty of breathing, etc., for many years past. About four months ago I took a severe cold, which settled on my lungs. I was unable to attend to my business during the day. I would have dreadfully coughing fits, that I thought it was impossible for me to survive unless I could get relief. The excessive night sweats, had reduced my whole body to a skeleton. I expectorated white frothy mucus, in fact, should I give the full particulars of my case, it would be almost incredible. I was recommended to try Dr. Vandersmith's Indian Cough Balm and Lung Balm. I consented; when I had used it about one week, my cough decreased considerably, which gave me great hopes. I continued with the medicine according to directions, and the result has been that I am restored to health, a blessing that I have not enjoyed for years, until the present. I sincerely believe had I not made use of Dr. Vandersmith's invaluable medicine, that I would be mouldering in the silent grave. Therefore I believe that I am doing nothing but what is justice, in stating the above facts, so that you may show it to all the afflicted who may call upon you to administer to them. I shall be pleased at any time to converse with the afflicted who call upon me. Your grateful patient and friend, JAMES B. HENDERSON.

Consumption.

Staten Island, June 10, 1847.

Dear Sir—I take great pleasure in giving you my certificate, last December I was attacked with a severe cough, pain in my left side, loss of appetite, and continual raising of white and yellow mucus. Some days I raised a half-pint of mucus, streaked with blood. I have been under the treatment of a dozen physicians, I was recommended by Dr. Mitchell of Philadelphia, to use a Breathing tube. I purchased one, I made use of it one week, it was the cause of bringing on a hemorrhage of the lungs, which reduced me so much that I was unable to sit up, my voice was entirely destroyed, it was difficult for persons to understand me. I saw Dr. Vandersmith's Medicine recommended very strongly by a patient whom he had cured. I sent for half a dozen bottles, I received great benefit from that, which induced me to purchase a dozen bottles, I took according to the directions, and it cured me perfectly sound.

Yours, &c. ROBERT WILLEY.

The American Improved Hygienic Vegetable Medicine.

SAFE, CHEAP AND EFFECTIVE.

This medicine makes no pretensions to miraculous powers, the raising of the dead, or to immense and astounding sales daily and hourly, after the most approved method of the times; but bases all its claims upon plain common sense principles, as a simple aid to nature in restoring the human system to its proper tone and action, when by carelessness or unavoidable circumstances it has become deranged or debilitated, and asks simply a faithful trial as a test of its curative properties. During the last twenty years it has worked its way into extensive use, wholly upon its own merits, not having been advertised for more than twelve years till within the past few months—save occasionally in a journal of which the present proprietor is Editor. The increasing demand, however, has necessarily compelled greater attention to its business, and agencies are now being established throughout the country.

A faithful trial of a half dollar or dollar package is almost certain to secure use in every family where it is introduced, where medicine is needed. The undersigned has used it in his own family for more than fifteen years—has knowledge of its approved use in many others, (for periods varying from months to fifteen or sixteen years,) as their only medicine, and knows it to be valuable in most of the complaints incident to the human system. But a long or extravagant commendation is not designed or needed here. Ten thousand mere assertions in its favor will not make it valuable, or satisfy reasonable persons without a trial; for the proof, after all, must lie in the use of it. Try it, then. Read, try, and then judge.

Bogle's Hyperion Fluid, Or Vegetable Hair Composition.

THE subscriber has been induced to bring this article before the public, at the request of his numerous customers, among whom are physicians and citizens of the first respectability, who have adopted its use in their families, and wish others to participate in its advantages.

The Hyperion is composed of vegetable ingredients, the secret of compounding and blending which is known solely to the subscriber. It is an article in which a cleansing and purifying wash is beautifully blended with a most delicate, silky and glossy moisture never before attained, yet free of animal grease or essential oils. It cures the pores of the skin, causes a healthy action in the blood vessels, nerves, &c., which feed the hair, thereby preventing BALDNESS AND GREY HAIR.

It entirely frees the skin from Scurf, Dandruff, and other cutaneous diseases, disposes the hair to curl, and changes the harshest hair into the most soft, glossy, and healthy state, also imparts to it a darker color, and the free use of it, both on the skin and hair, in a most healthy and luxurious state until the latest period of life.

Ladies will find the Hyperion a great addition to the toilet, both on account of its delicate and agreeable perfume, and the great facilities it affords in dressing the hair, which, when moist with the fluid, can be dressed in any required form, so as to preserve its place, whether plain or in curls. When used on children's heads, it lays the foundation of a good head of hair.

MR. ABRAHAM VANDERBEEK, of 98 Avenue D.

New York, certifies that his head was entirely bald on the top, and by the use of two 3s. bottles of Jones' Coral Hair Restorative, he has a good crop of hair, and will soon have it long and thick.

Mr. William Jackson, of 60 Liberty street, Pittsburgh, Pa., certifies: On the 3d of February, 1847, that Mr. Thomas Jackson's head, on the top, was entirely bald for 15 years, and that by using two 3s. bottles of Jones' Coral Hair Restorative, the hair is growing fast and thick, and will soon be entirely restored.

Gray Heads! Gray Heads! Read—I hereby certify that my hair was turning gray, and that since I have used Jones' Coral Hair Restorative, it has entirely ceased falling—is growing fast, and has a fine dark look. Before I used Jones' Coral Hair Restorative, I combed out handfuls of hair daily. WM. TOMPKINS, 32 King-st., N. Y.

Mr. Power, a grocer of Fulton-st., had his hair choked up with dandruff, and Jones' Hair Restorative entirely cured it.

Do you want to dress, beautify, and make your hair soft and fine? Read—I, Henry E. Cullen, late barber on board the steamboat South American, do certify that Jones' Coral Hair Restorative is the best article I ever used for dressing, softening, cleansing and keeping the hair a long time in order; all my customers preferred it to anything else.

GENUINE BEAR'S OIL.

Highly Perfumed.—Perhaps our ladies and fashionables are not aware that three-quarters of the "Bear's Oil," (so called) with which they anoint their locks, is nothing in the world but hog's lard, so highly scented as to escape detection, save on close examination. This, however, is simply the fact, and one that ought to be known. The only safe way to purchase your Bear's Oil of HENRY JOHNSON, who gets it direct from Canada and the North Western Territory, and who never sells an ounce until he knows it to be genuine. The real Bear's Oil is a wonderful beautifier and strengthener of the hair, and should be used by every one desirous of beautiful locks.

Purified and perfumed for toilet purposes, by Henry Johnson, Chemist and Druggist, 273 Broadway, corner Chambers st. in the granite building. Sold in New York by R. R. HAZARD, near the Court House. Aug 18 1/2

CLICKER'S SUGAR-COATED PILLS.

The grand purgative for the cure of headache, piles, rheumatism, dyspepsia, scurvy, small pox, jaundice, rising in the throat, fever of all kinds, heartburns, coughs, consumption, erysipelas, deafness, colds, gravel, pains in the back, palpitations of the heart, inward weakness, dropsy, asthma of the lungs, flatulency, worms, quinsy, whooping cough, fits, liver complaint, itchings of the skin, nervous complaints, and a variety of other diseases, arising from impurities of the blood, and obstructions in the organs of digestion.

CAUTION.—Beware of an imitation article called Improved Sugar-Coated Pills, purporting to be patented, as both the pills and pretended patent are forgeries, got up by a miserable quack in the city of New York, who for the last four or five years has made his living by counterfeiting popular medicines.

Remember, Dr. C. V. Clicker is the inventor of sugar-coated pills, and that nothing of the sort was ever heard of until he introduced them in June 1843. Persons should therefore always ask for Clicker's sugar-coated pills, and take no others, or they will become the victims of a fraud. 25 cents per box, or five boxes for $1.

Sold in New York by R. J. Taylor, and by one agent in every town in New-England.

Brownell's Cooking Range.

THE subscriber has just completed the invention of a new Cooking Range, to which he invites the attention of the public. This Range possesses qualities for expeditious boiling and cooking that other Ranges do not, and it occupies but a small space of room.

Brownell's Cooking Range has six eight inch boilers, any two, or four of which, can be thrown into one, so as to admit of a large boiler; and it is provided with a set of rings so that any size furniture can be used on it. Its Oven is large, convenient of access, and having an upward draft, it bakes evenly with a small quantity of fuel.

One of these Ranges is in successful operation at the store of the subscriber, subject to the examination of the public, who are invited to call and take a look at it. WILLIAM BROWNELL.

China, Glass and Earthen Ware,

At Wholesale and Retail.

THE Subscriber has just opened at the Glass and China Store, Colonnade Row, No. 2, Thames street, the most extensive, and best selected stock of China, Glass, and Earthen Ware, ever offered in New York, to which the attention of the public is invited. His Stock consists in part of the following articles:—

Lamps

Solar Lamps, Chandeliers, Candelabras, Lustres, Girandoles, Hall Lamps, Side Lamps, and in fact every kind of Lamp now in use, varying in prices from almost nothing up to $25.

China Ware.

Several splendid Dining Sets of pure imperial China Ware, warranted superior to anything ever before offered in this market; Splendid pure China Tea Sets, of the latest and most approved patterns, for sale low.

He also has a great variety of common Ware, for family use, which will sell very low. He is now prepared to furnish families, and also to fill orders at the shortest notice; he also keeps all kinds of ware to let for parties, &c., on the most reasonable terms. JOHN T. STANHOPE.

Coggeshall & Bliss' Patent Cooking Range.

THE subscriber has just taken out letters patent for a new and beautiful cooking Range, to which they invite the attention of the public.

This Range may be set in the ordinary fire place, and by a simple, though effectual apparatus, the throat of the chimney may in an instant of time, be opened or closed, so that the heat in summer and the fumes from cooking at all times may escape through the chimney.

Wood or coal may be used, and the evil of smoking chimneys is completely remedied by its introduction.

This Range is so constructed that it takes up but a small space, and yet it contains all the qualities of those which take up double the amount; and it is being constructed as it is, the Boilers are brought in close proximity with the fire, and it consequently boils much sooner, and with a smaller amount of fuel, than the old fashioned Ranges, or cook stoves. It contains five boilers, four of which may be converted into two, by taking out a cross piece, and thus will admit of two large boilers at the same time. It also contains and Oven 12 inches wide by 21 deep, which cannot be surpassed for baking.

The subscriber has one of these Ranges in operation at his store, where the public are invited to call and examine it, and if they will, they must at once discover its utility. He also keeps constantly on hand all kinds of Parlor, Office, and Cook Stoves, Tin Ware, &c., &c. WM. H. BLISS.

READER! READER!

If you are afflicted with Bronchitis, Asthma, or any of the common Coughs and Colds, Spitting of Blood, Bleeding of the Lungs, Whooping cough, croup, difficulty of breathing, sore throat, hoarseness, first stages of consumption, and all other Pulmonary or Lung Complaints, try

DOCT. EMANUEL'S BALSMIC LUNG AND COUGH JELLY.

THE materials of this Jelly are purely vegetable and balsamic, and are the invention of an eminent physician, from whom the proprietor has purchased the recipe. It is certainly worth its weight in gold, but is put at a price to be within the reach of rich and poor.

Names and residences of persons residing in the city of New York, who have been cured or benefited by Dr. Emanuel's Balsamic Cough and Lung Jelly, when it was prepared in another form:

Mr. Hiram Amers, 113 William-st., N. Y., had for some time, a dreadful pain in his side and chest, with a hacking cough, and shortness or difficulty of breath. He used part of a bottle of Dr. Emanuel's Balsamic Lung and Cough Jelly, which perfectly cured him.

Mrs. Morgan, Front-st., Brooklyn, had a very obstinate cough and cold. She tried every other remedy in vain, and Dr. Emanuel's Balsamic Lung and Cough Jelly entirely cured her.

Reader, reader, let the glad voices and grateful hearts of these respectable citizens of New York, appeal to your hearts and understandings, if you are afflicted with any pulmonary complaint, cough, cold, &c.

Mr. L. W. Conklin, 102 Eldridge-st.

Mr. Alonzo Brown, 72 Reade-st.

Mrs. Morgan, 163 Front-st., Brooklyn.

Orange county April 19th, 1846.

Dr. EMANUEL.

Dear Sir—You may perhaps think my statement almost incredible. My reason for fearing so is the fact of your never recommending your Jelly for the cure of confirmed consumption, but only in its primary or first stages. I have every reason to believe that I was in its last stage; my physician told me so; my friends told me so; as well did my symptoms, for they were truly alarming; and I felt fully convinced, that unless relief was obtained I must soon be consigned to the narrow confines of the silent grave. But by the timely use of your remedy, I still live, and again enjoy my former good health. I had, indeed, dear sir, all the alarming symptoms you speak of as forming consumption in its worst stage; but by the use of your Jelly, I again say, I am cured.

Yours, dear sir, with great sincerity, ISAAC J. BEED.

And now, reader, having given you a plain statement, let me conjure you to pause, ere it is too late; try this Balsamic Lung Jelly—try it. I have put its price to you as low as I can afford; if you use it, and succeed in curing yourself, I shall have the gratification of having rescued another from consumption; and I hope, in return, that you will not withhold from me your name, and a statement of your cure.

Dr. Emanuel's Balsamic Lung and Cough Jelly, is sold by the Agent,

Price fifty cents a bottle, or larger sizes one dollar.

Roake's Iodine Liniment.

A SAFE and certain cure for Rheumatism, or any other chronic or inflammatory—Paralysis, or loss of the use of the limbs, contractions of cords and muscles, and gout, it matters not of how long standing; sprains, bruises, tumors, hard swellings, and enlarged joints, yield to a few applications of this Liniment. It has been used with incredible success in scrofula or king's evil, enlarged glands of the spine and hip joints, the colorless, and all nervous affections. It is invaluable, and acts like a charm, stopping the bleeding of fresh wounds, and causing them to heal in a few days. It has never been known to fail curing the most stubborn ulcers or fever sores and swellings, pain across the kidneys, in the chest, side, also still neck
